about adglow

■ Who are Adglow?

Established in 1957, Adglow is a family run business and is the UK's number 1 supplier of Point of Sale (POS) and Point of Purchase (POP) design, manufacturing and installation solutions.

Adglow's in-house team of dedicated and talented staff have over 50 years creativity, and POS / POP design and manufacturing experience, ensuring the best engineered solutions for your brands display requirements.

Our team are highly professional and approachable individuals who communicate effectively at any level. We have built an extensive portfolio of well known brands and agencies who have derived great ROI results from our services.

Whether working for brands directly or through their appointed agencies, confidentially will always be the key to all that we do in design and manufacture.

■ What we do

Adglow have been creating innovative Point of Sale solutions for brands and retailers, breathing life into creative concepts and increasing sales in every retail environment.

Our engineers have in depth knowledge of every aspect of manufacturing, including Prototyping, Plastic Injection Mouldings and Metal Fabrication.

So, whatever the challenge, we're ready to provide truly dynamic solutions.

■ How we do it

At Adglow we bring every client the very best solutions whatever the engineering challenge.

We bring together every element you could possibly need to succeed, all handled by one team.

We start with the consultation process, working closely with our clients we gain a complete understanding of every detail of the brief.

Our design experts will then use their knowledge, imagination and creativity to deliver the best possible design solution. Then our engineers and production team will bring your design to life all in-house.

With over 50 years industry experience we know exactly what our clients need.

We have the very best people, the brightest ideas and all the experience required to produce unbeatable Point Of Sale displays and so much more.

BRIEFING

During initial discussions with the client, draft sketches are made to agree on design concepts. Our design team work very closely with the client to understand their product requirements, what environment the product will be displayed in, and materials that may be needed to ensure the display meets the requirements.

DESIGN & DEVELOPMENT

Once the sketches have been completed and discussed with the client, Our design team produce a 3D graphic model of the display to help the client see what the end result is likely to look like. This is a key stage of the development process as the visuals provide essential information on the possible final design.

PROTOTYPING

Once costings have been agreed, the drawings are used to create a design sample or prototype so the client can see what their product design looks like.

PRODUCTION

Upon sign off of the sample, the product goes into full production and is handed to our production team to manage the delivery and installation schedules.

INSTALLATION

To compliment our design and manufacturing services, we also offer professional installation services for your business.
